"Rikka no wa Sena to Iu Koto no Eigo ni Uchite" (Rikka's heart gets smaller and smaller as she gets nearer to the truth) In this role-playing game you play as a young woman living in a Share House in Tokyo. The Game starts after 4 weeks of Rikka moving in at this Share House. She was looking for something different, and Sena was a quite unique guy. She even liked Sena's blonde hair! But after the third tenant got to know about the love between Rikka and Sena, he moved out of the Share House. The Share House owner had to find a new tenant as soon as possible. So Sena and Rikka stay at the share house. Being a lonely woman, Rikka's heart started to get smaller and smaller. Rikka and Sena get closer and closer, but the only thing that's important to them is not to lose each other. They're both fiances so they couldn't bring the truth out in the open. After a few weeks of living together, Rikka finds out that her love for Sena is more than just a friendship. A Game About Emotions and Struggles "What's Love?!" "I Will Not Confess" "The Role of the Little Girl" "Please make it a happy ending!" "The Tragic Part!" "What's Love?!" You play as Rikka, a regular woman who lives in a Share House in Tokyo. Since the third tenant got to know about the love between Rikka and Sena, he moved out of the Share House. The share House owner had to find a new tenant as soon as possible. There's no way to prevent it from happening as there are many other people that want to move in. You help Rikka to find a new tenant. As the story progresses, you will get to know each other. And your choices will affect your relationship with the other tenants. The more choices you make, the bigger your chances to get Sena to fall in love with you. "Who's in Love with Who?" You can choose who you want to start your relationship with. There are lots of different paths, but you have to choose carefully. You can get Sena by convincing him to love you. You can even get Sena through another woman. It's

First impressions: I really like it. The font is beautifully styled and the little, cartoonish girls are adorable, of course. It has a slow, sweet and romantic atmosphere and gives me a warm feeling inside. The art and sound are both very well done. Gameplay: The gameplay itself is nice and relaxed, much more so than Yuri on Ice. You can just stroll along, and all your decisions will be well taken care of. It takes about 5-10 hours to get to a "finish" point. While I still think the pacing is rather slow, it's better than Ice because it's more relaxing. The story: There are some great roles for the girl's friends, like Miku, Rikka's mom and sister. It's not like the other games, where there is a handful of characters on the team that are always whining and having a negative attitude. It's more like a normal dating sim with just one girl and her friends. Some characters do come across as very good friends, and some as maybe more platonic, if I understand it correctly. I like the plot too. I'm not a huge fan of the relationships in story, but it's done nicely here. The best thing about it is that even if you don't like it or don't understand it, you can play it anyway. It's not meant to be an easy game. There is no good way to beat it, and if you play it normally, it will probably take you about 5-10 hours of gameplay to get to a "finish" point. All in all, Yuri on Ice: Legend is a very nice game and even if you don't like it, it's a great game to play. I really think people should try it out at least once. Even if it's not your thing, it's still quite a nice game. Gameplay: It's the base gameplay of Yuri on Ice, so it's like that, just a bit slower. The character design is gorgeous and enjoyable to watch. It's a very well done role-playing game. There is a really good soundtrack and some nice, refreshingly original music. Story: The story is very well done. It gives a pretty good explanation to the fandom and to the part the other games didn't. It's a little more realistic, even though it's still a bit of a fictional story. Characters: The characters are absolutely adorable.
