The biggest game mode in the history of football is back, with over 10,000 playable players. Create your dream squad from among 11,332 unique players, and play with over 750 authentic player kits. Every kind of club and badge is at your disposal, including the world's largest replica stadiums. Online Seasons - FIFA Online Seasons delivers the deepest, most authentic online football experience in FUT. Get ready to compete in online season playoffs, league play, cup competitions, and more as you aim to dominate the world stage. PROS CONS - Single player not as exciting as Madden NFL - FanDuel is awful - Racism in online The worst game ever - Virtually no replay value, bad controls, awful teammate AI - the list goes on and on. This game is fun, if you have a decent internet connection, and don't feel too embarrassed to play with the same team over and over. Online is terrible, but have fun if you want - I won't be working on any online leagues for EA.I highly recommend this for people who know nothing about football and can't even name a top college basketball player. This game is awful and needs a major rework and is turding in the toilet of football games. UJW? Not a football fan? Well, this is not only a soccer game! There are many options to play. The modes aren't focused on one sport like Madden but with over 60 different modes in addition to the career mode, you can play what you want to. Although I'm not a huge fan of the user interface of the career mode, the rewards for playing out matches and earning points for your team (FUT points) are quite sweet. There are many leagues and even a town mode if you want to go pro for a day. Most of the modes are accessible within each sport, so if you're a soccer fan, you can be competitive in FUT, Madden, etc. The modes that I've played are listed here. Haven't really had any interactions with others online, but there is a great online economy. There is so much you can spend on players that aren't very expensive, so it's really easy to have a better squad than your opponents. I've been in a town league for the last 6 seasons and got like $40,000 in FUT points so far. I'm on my 3rd season and only just won the National

FIFA is the best-selling sports video game franchise of all time. It's the video game to enjoy the thrill of soccer, with millions of players around the world. Enjoy authentic, real-world football, with innovative gameplay, the best atmosphere and the most expansive single-player experience. About This Game
FIFA 19 is the most authentic sports video game of all time. Experience the game that shapes the future of soccer, online and in career mode. Play 11/11 leagues with authentic teams and stadiums. Compete at the top of the game with over 200 official licensed teams and athletes. The worst football you have ever seen. EA has been unable to back up in recent years, and while FIFA 14 (and 10) were both fairly good games, we didn't know if FIFA 13 could be recovered. FIFA 18 is more of the same, certainly no worse than any of the previous generations of the game, but we had no idea what to expect. The biggest news of FIFA 18 was the fact that EA said they were giving up on the series. They claimed it wasn't commercially viable to keep making games in this style, that it'd be a one-time-only thing. If that's true it's a shame. If it's not, it's a shame again. FIFA 18 comes out at the end of this month, which is when I'd ordinarily write something about the game, but I think that'll be a bit premature. I've been playing it non-stop for the past few days and here's what I have to say about it: it's a bad game, even worse than FIFA 17. "It's not about the eye candy. It's not about feeling sexy. It's about football." EA is selling the game on the basis that the graphics are better than anything we've seen before, but I'm having trouble believing that. FIFA 18 looks a lot like FIFA 17, the same theme of slightly cartoony players with 80's haircuts, and worse detail. The pitch markings are just as unclear and the player animation is worse than anything we've seen before, save for last year's game. But none of that matters; it's about the game itself. It's more of the same. The system has been overhauled slightly, while retaining a few key features from the past. Under Armour is now the official kit provider, with Adidas replaced by rivals adidas (as before). The offense has changed
